

How to send your scores

Your SAT scores must be sent to the college / university you are about to attend and the governing body that overlooks the athletics programme of your college / university. The scores have to be sent from your College Board account.

If we booked your SAT we order your scores to be sent to NCAA and NAIA. If you book your SAT yourself you can send your scores for free prior to the release of the results. Usually at the time your SAT is booked you would not know the college / university you will be attending so you will need to send the scores later.

Step 1

Log in to your College Board account. Click on My SAT.

Step 2

Click on Send Available Scores Now and then Send Additional Score Reports in the pop-up window.

Step 3

Type your university / college name. You might need to select the state if it is a popular name. Once you find your university / college select it and press Add.

Step 4

If it was not set up earlier don't forget to look up and add the governing body (NCAA or NAIA) that your university / college falls under. When we book your SAT we always order score reports to be sent to governing bodies so you do not need to worry about it.

Step 5

Check your order and tick off the Agreement box.

Step 6

Place your order and select the payment method: you can pay by Debit and Credit Cards or PayPal.

Step 7

Usually the results are sent instantly (or when available if you order to send your scores before results are released), however, keep checking with the governing body and university / college if they have received your scores.
